Chief aide to Hagnauer to change jobs

Mary Kane, director of administration for Madison County since 1979, announced Friday that she is resigning to accept a position as the new executive director of the Leadership Council of Southwestern Illinois.

Carl Mathias of Granite City, president of the two-county economic development group, said Mrs. Kane was recommended by the council's search committee after a three-month review.

MRS. KANE will replace Greg Niemann, who has served as the council's acting executive director on loan from Illinois Power Co.

Mrs. Kane's resignation will be effective April 1, 1985. In a letter to Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City, chairman of the Madison County Board, she said it is with mixed emotions that I draft this letter to you submitting my resignation. The (Leadership) Council, as you are aware from your participation on the board of directors, represents a private-public sector partnership dedicated to enhancing the image and encouraging business investment in Madison and St. Clair Counties.

"Serving as the executive director of this newly created, dynamic group presented an opportunity for professional advancement and career growth that I could not refuse."

SHE CONCLUDED, "I will leave Madison County and the county board with many wonderful memories of my experiences and associates over the past 10 years. The opportunity to work for and among the elected leaders of Madison County and, in particular, for yourself, has been one of the highlights of my career. So much of my success has been due in large part to your support and encouragement, and I sincerely hope that I may rely upon that same support in my new position with the leadership council."

Mrs. Kane was director of the Madison County Community Development office prior to being named director of administration. Prior employment has been with the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission, with University City, Mo., and with Booker and Associates.

She holds a bachelor of arts degree from Tulane University and a master of science degree from the University of Arizona.

THE LEADERSHIP Council of Southwestern Illinois is a private-public sector partnership comprised of major businesses, industry, labor, government and education leaders in Madison and St. Clair Counties. The council's primary objectives are to enhance the image and encourage business investment in Southwestern Illinois.

The Council will host Illinois Senators Alan J. Dixon and Paul Simon at its first annual dinner, "A Salute to Southwestern Illinois" Friday, March 15.

Victim of fatal house fire named

A 2-year-old girl who was killed in a house fire Thursday at 765 Jefferson St., Madison, has been identified as Shakelia Elliott.

She was overcome by fumes and suffered burns in the fire. Her body was found by firefighters in a doorway between two bedrooms at the home. She was pronounced dead at the scene by Madison County Deputy Coroner Edward Werner.

FUNERAL SERVICES for the Elliott child were arranged by Officer Funeral Home in East St. Louis. Additional details appear in today's obituary column.

Her 4-year-old brother, Rico F. Long, who suffered second and third degree burns in the fire, is listed in satisfactory condition at Barnes Hospital today. His condition earlier was serious, since he was reportedly in the intensive care unit.

A third child, Shaquila Elliott, 1, is believed to have been pulled from the fire. The girl, who was not injured, is staying with relatives.

MADISON POLICE Detective Paul Bargiel is currently conducting an investigation into the details surrounding the fire. He could not be reached for comment today.

It is still uncertain how many persons were in the home when the fire broke out. Rumors naming two persons were believed at home are unconfirmed.

Authorities have hinted that an overloaded extension cord may have caused the fire. Madison Fire Chief Mike Mackel told the St. Louis Globe-Democrat earlier that Illinois Power Co. officials were at the house on Wednesday to disconnect improperly connected wires.

DICK CHAPMAN, assistant to the service area manager at Illinois Power, was unavailable to confirm or deny the allegations. It is known, however, that the owner of the home, Lillie May Collins, requested that the power service to the house be disconnected three weeks ago.

John Dutko, Madison city inspector, said that one of the occupants of the house, Tina Long, had obtained an occupancy permit, as is required by law. Dutko said the permit was issued on Feb. 13 by Curtis King, another city inspector.

PUMPER ONE. Members of the Madison Volunteer Fire Department examine the newest addition to the department's firefighting arsenal, an Emergency One pumper, Friday afternoon. The new, all-aluminum truck, purchased by the city for $122,000, has replaced the department's old pumper No. 1 and is outfitted with the latest firefighting equipment.

Tornado Preparedness Week starts

By VALERIE EVENDEN

"Tornado Preparedness Week" in Illinois has been proclaimed by Governor James R. Thompson through Saturday, March 9, in communities throughout the state. An average of 25 tornadoes have swept through Illinois each year since 1930, with 34 in 1984 and as many as 107 in 1974, the governor noted in his official decree.

AS IN previous years, the Granite City Emergency Services and Disaster Agency will participate in the annual tornado drill, designed primarily to test communication and public warning systems.

Harold Mayfield, local ESDA coordinator, said response times to initial warning messages will be checked at the local Civil Defense (ESDA) headquarters and also with Granite City School District officials.

Signal reception and any possible delay time in receiving the activated warning tones on the special radios located in the schools, which originates from the National Weather Service, will be scrutinized, he added.

WARNING signals come directly to the schools from the National Weather Service where a tornado warning or tornado watch is issued within a specific area, Mayfield explained.

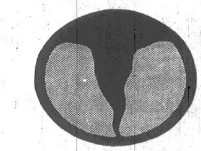

The same message also is received by the ESDA at which time the network of warning sirens is activated throughout the community, the coordinator said.

A Tornado Watch is issued when tornadoes and severe thunderstorms are possible in a given area. At that time, persons living within that region are requested to turn on a radio or television for the latest weather bulletins.

A TORNADO warning is sounded when a tornado is detected in the area, or one appears to be moving in the direction of a community. Residents should take immediate shelter in this instance.

St. Elizabeth Medical Center also gets direct warning messages from the National Weather Service and will conduct its annual drill in conjunction with Tuesday's statewide exercise, Mayfield said. In his proclamation, Gov. Thompson states:

Two arrested in fatal stabbing

Two Pontoon Beach men have been arrested and charged in the fatal stabbing of one man and wounding of another, whose vehicle was forced off the road at a ramp leading from Route 3 onto Interstate 70 in East St. Louis in the early morning hours last Tuesday. A third suspect still is being sought.

Arrested late Thursday were William H. Chilcutt III, 27, of the 5200 block of Lakeview Drive, and Kyle Archer, 23, of Tulip Court.

BOTH WERE taken into custody at their homes by agents of the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation.

Each was charged with attempted murder and armed violence, according to a DCI spokesman. The third suspect, believed to have done the fatal stabbing, was being sought Friday, he said.

Steven E. Gerstenecker, 27, a truck driver who lived near Troy, was pronounced dead at 4:30 a.m.

Tuesday, Feb. 26, at St. Mary's Hospital in East St. Louis.

HE WAS A passenger in a car driven by John C. Fink, 28, also of the Troy area, who operates an auto repair shop south of Troy. Fink also was stabbed, but was in satisfactory condition Friday at Oliver C. Anderson Hospital in Maryville.

Three men in a van forced Fink's car off the road at the ramp leading onto Interstate 70 from Route 3 in East St. Louis, it is alleged.

DCI agents still are working on the case. However, other sources say the incident apparently began at Roxy's, a lounge in Brooklyn, and continued on the parking lot and along Route 3, where the stabbings occurred.

CHILCUTT AND Archer were taken before Associate Judge Robert Craig in St. Clair County Circuit Court at Belleville. Bonds of $750,000 were set on each man, who were being held in the St. Clair County Jail in Belleville.

Business aid center at SIUE is funded

Governor James R. Thompson has released $100,000 to initiate the activities of the Center for Advanced Manufacturing and Production (CAMP) at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The purpose of the center is to assist business and industry in the application of advanced technology.

Funding is through a technology commercialization program grant from the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs, according to Vaughnie J. Lindsay, dean of the SIUE Graduate School.

The CAMP project has been endorsed by nearly 30 area businesses, industries and chamber of commerce, including the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce board of directors. "The re-emergence of industry in this area is dependent, in part, upon the increased application of emerging technology. This will require significant research, training, and retraining for which the center will serve as an excellent focal point," one major area manufacturer said.

THE NEW research and public service center was approved by the SIUE Board of Trustees in November and the Illinois Board of Higher Education in December. The university has requested $248,000 in state funds to support the center, beginning July 1, 1985.

Working closely with business and industry, the center will promote economic development in the region by developing human resources, increasing employment opportunities, helping existing businesses and industries modernize and increase productivity and attracting new businesses to the area.

Lindsay said regional industry and business will be able to utilize the university's expertise in advanced manufacturing and production to research and develop new ideas, knowledge and technologies.

"CAMP is a major cooperative effort to revitalize the region's economy. Through the center, business and industry will be able to use the University's resources to evaluate, adapt and utilize advanced manufacturing techniques, which should help them increase productivity and become more competitive in national and world markets," Lindsay added.

THE NEW research and public service center was approved by the SIUE Board of Trustees in November and the Illinois Board of Higher Education in December. The univer-

State will seek bids for emissions test stations

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) is soliciting proposals from private contractors for the construction, equipping and staffing of facilities for the vehicle emissions inspection program. Approximately 2.4 million vehicles will be subject to a required annual emission test (generally known as inspection/maintenance or I/M) in Cook County and parts of DuPage, Lake, Madison and St. Clair Counties, including the Quad-City area. The program is expected to begin about January 1986.

A bidder's conference will be held March 7, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., at the Illinois Department of Transportation Building Auditorium in Springfield to answer questions from potential bidders. The successful bidder will be required to acquire land, build testing facilities and operate the program. Attendance at the conference is not a prerequisite for bidding on the proposal. All bids must be received at the IEPA headquarters in Springfield by 5 p.m. on April 22.

The Vehicle Emissions Inspection Law (P.A. 83-1477) was signed by Governor James R. Thompson, Sept. 24, 1984, after the federal government threatened to withhold $90 million in road funds if the measure was not approved.

The Vehicle Emissions Inspection Law requires the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency to establish an inspection program to reduce motor vehicle emissions of pollutants (hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide) in the Chicago and E. St. Louis areas of Illinois. The program will consist of mandatory annual exhaust emissions inspections of cars and trucks in the inspection areas.

Diesels and motorcycles are exempt from the program.

East St. Louis man receives probation for Granite City theft plea

Madison County Circuit Judge Edward C. Ferguson has sentenced Isaac Rittour, 36, of East St. Louis, to serve a year of probation and ordered him to pay $95 in court costs after Rittour pleaded guilty Dec. 18, 1984, to a felony count of theft.

The charge was filed on Dec. 17, 1984, after Granite City police arrested Rittour and Renee Reason, 39, of St. Louis the day before. The pair was in a U-Haul pickup truck with a Nebraska license plate, which was stopped by police on Niedringhaus Avenue. The vehicle was towed to police headquarters, and several items without store receipts allegedly were found in the truck, including packages of flashbulbs valued at $174.

Initially, police had been called to Gasen Drugs in Nameoki Village Shopping Center, where a clerk allegedly seeing Rittour stuffing packages of flash bulbs inside his bi-overalls. The clerk confronted the man, advising him to replace the items, and he allegedly returned five or six packages to the counter.

The clerk told police she knew more packages were missing and she had asked the man to accompany her to the back of the store. The man refused and left the store in the truck. A description of the vehicle led police to halt it a few minutes later.

Two hurt, cite driver for DUI

Phillip J. Jaime, 25, of 1643 Spruce St., was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and reckless driving last week, following a one-vehicle accident on Niedringhaus Avenue.

Jaime and his wife, Brenda, 22, who was a passenger in the 1976 Dodge van operated by her husband, both suffered injuries and were taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center by ambulance.

According to reports, witnesses alleged to police that Jaime parked his van on the sidewalk, facing east, in front of a tavern in the 900 block of Niedringhaus Avenue. When he and his wife were refused a drink inside the bar, he allegedly entered the van and took off at high speed.

Officers were told that Jaime drove east on the sidewalk and into the roadway at the intersection of Niedringhaus and Walnut Street, where he lost control of the vehicle, spinning it around and striking a telephone pole.

The impact threw Jaime from the van and Mrs. Jaime had to be extricated from the vehicle by the Granite City Fire Department's rescue squad, reports said.

At the medical center, Jaime declined to have blood drawn for a blood alcohol test and was charged with DUI. Jaime and his wife were both admitted to the hospital.

Mrs. Jaime sustained injuries to her forehead, nose and right leg and was to undergo surgery Tuesday. Jaime suffered injuries to his forehead.

Anderson Hospital to offer free community programs

As part of its ongoing outreach program, Anderson Hospital in Maryville will conduct several free programs for the community during March.

A new "Sharing Parents" support group will meet on Tuesday, March 5, a CPR instruction class will be on Wednesday, March 6, and a monthly class for children whose parents are expecting a baby will begin on Saturday, March 9.

The support group entitled "Sharing Parents" will meet on Tuesday, March 5, in the hospital cafeteria at 7 p.m. Any parent or grandparent who has experienced the loss of an infant through miscarriage, stillbirth or early infant death is encouraged to attend. The meetings will provide a supportive atmosphere in which these parents can share feelings about their loss and grief.

No pre-registration is necessary, and there is no fee. Those interested in obtaining further information should call 1-288-5711, extension 465 or 466.

Basic CPR will be the subject of the class on Wednesday, March 6, from 6 until 10 p.m. in the third-floor classroom of the hospital.

CPR—cardio-pulmonary resuscitation—is a technique used to revive or sustain people whose heart and/or breathing has stopped. While CPR most frequently is administered to victims of heart attacks, it also can be used in other life-threatening situations such as drowning, suffocation or electrocution.

Based on the American Heart

Association's CPR course, the free four-hour class is designed for adults and is somewhat physically demanding. Anyone with a health problem who plans on participating in the class should consult their physicians before registration.

Because the size of the class must be limited, advance registration is required. People interested in taking the free CPR course at Anderson should register by calling Jean Pruetz at 1-288-5711, extension 447.

A sibling class is scheduled for Saturday, March 9, from 10 a.m. until noon for the brothers- and sisters-to-be of infants which will be born at Anderson Hospital. Every month this special class will be conducted to help children better understand what this event means in their lives. The children will be shown the obstetrical unit where their mother and new baby will stay. They will make a gift for their new baby and talk with Oliver, the puppet, about the fears and jealousy associated with a new baby joining the family.

Interested parents should call 1-288-5711, extension 446, to register their children or obtain more information.

Anderson Hospital is a full-service facility dedicated to meeting the health-care needs of the community. A variety of health-related activities are available free to the community. For information on programs of Anderson Hospital, interested persons may call 1-288-5711, extension 447.

Six Flags to host job fair March 9

Six Flags Over Mid-America will be hosting a job fair Saturday, March 9, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Chesterfield Breckenridge Hotel and Conference Center in West St. Louis County.

Once interested applicants have had an opportunity to talk with department representatives and tour their booths, they will be able to complete an application for seasonal employment and then interview with park management personnel.

The 200-acre theme park offers an array of positions for all ages within each department. At the job fair, applicant will be able to receive information from every area of the park and learn what each department represents. A variety of seasonal employment opportunities are available in food service, ride operations, groundskeeping, games and attractions, and gifts and souvenirs.

KETC to broadcast tax advice show

As April 15 approaches, taxpayers are starting to ask themselves difficult questions. KETC/Channel 9 may be the place to find the answers as Tax Tips '84, at 9 p.m. Thursday, March 7, offers advice from local tax experts for the fourth consecutive year.

Tax Tips '84, an hour-long Channel 9 production, gives viewers the opportunity to call in and ask questions about their individual and joint tax returns, as well as about the new tax laws. The answers will come from a panel of tax experts who are members of the Missouri Society of Certified Public Accountants. The panelists are Louis J. Mitos III of Touche, Ross and Company, Annam M. Polizzi-Keller of Arthur Young and Company, and Melvin M. Bloom of Hochschild, Bloom and Company.

Mary McDermott, host and producer of Tax Tips '84, says viewer response has been good in past years. "In addition to providing basic information, such as how to fill out returns and new tax law changes, we will devote most of the hour to answering viewer phone calls to address specific concerns of our audience," Mrs. McDermott said.

Tax Tips '84 promises to tell viewers everything necessary for filing individual federal and state income tax returns, she adds.

Danny A. Payne, 19, of 2202 Missouri Ave., was charged with criminal trespass to land in an incident that occurred at the Press-Record building, 1815 Delmar Ave., at 2:30 a.m. Thursday.

Payne approached a security guard at the building and asked to use a phone. When he was told there was no phone, he allegedly became abusive.

The security guard asked him to leave again, but Payne allegedly refused. He was arrested by Granite City police.

Business aids center

Management and labor will also be able to utilize CAMP services to help develop new working skills, as well as to adjust to the impact of technology upon the work environment.

In establishing the center, the university plans to utilize particularly the strengths within its School of Engineering, Sciences and Business and the cooperative efforts already existing between the university and industry. David Werner, dean of the School of Business, has been named acting director of CAMP.

Werner said such a center offers strong advantages for Illinois' economy beyond the retention of traditional industry, the training of labor, and the development of human resources.

"CLEARLY, A center of this kind will encourage the creation of new commercial endeavors. New enterprises, for example, may emerge to market inventions resulting from the center's research," Werner said, adding that such inventions may involve research in robotics, software, integrated information systems and other technologies related to advanced manufacturing and production systems.

Two seminars will be conducted this spring to initiate interest and awareness in the center's activities. Business or industrial personnel wishing to learn more about CAMP may contact Dean Werner in the SIUE School of Business by calling 1-692-3822 or by writing CAMP, Box 51, SIUE, Edwardsville, Ill. 62026-1001.

which every year destroys lives and property, is imminent; and

"Whereas, Illinois, at the northeast edge of the most tornado-prone region of the world, is especially vulnerable; and

"Whereas, an average of 25 tornadoes have swept through Illinois each year since 1950, with 34 in 1984 and as many as 107 in 1974; and

"WHEREAS, the Illinois Emergency Services and Disaster Agency and the National Weather Service have worked together to combat the deadly effects of tornadoes through emergency planning;

"Therefore, I, James R. Thompson, Governor of the State of Illinois, proclaim March 9, 1985, as Tornado Preparedness Week in Illinois.

"I strongly urge all Illinois residents to become familiar with the hazards of tornadoes, and to formulate or refine tornado preparedness plans so that deaths and injuries from the devastating effects of tornadoes can be minimized."

National Kidney Foundation launches March campaign

The National Kidney Foundation of Eastern Missouri and Metro East, Inc., has launched its campaign for March—National Kidney Month—designed to increase awareness about the programs associated with diseases of the kidney and urinary tract, and to educate Americans about the causes, symptoms and treatments.

The March campaign also will focus heavily on the increasing need for more people to think seriously about organ donation and will encourage them to either sign an organ donor card or donate their organs to their drivers' license. Organ donor cards are available through the National Kidney Foundation. There is no charge for organ donation. Officials say organ donation does not interfere with customary funeral or burial arrangements.

Kidney and urinary tract diseases are one of the leading causes of illness and work loss in the U.S. today.

More than 13 million Americans suffer from kidney and urinary tract disease.

About 78,000 die each year because of diseases of the kidney and urinary tract.

Last year, more than 70,000 Americans suffering from chronic renal disease depended on an artificial kidney machine (dialysis) to stay alive.

In 1983, more than 10,000 people in the U.S. were awaiting kidney transplants, but only 6,112 of them received a new kidney because of a shortage of suitable organ donors.

Benign prostatic hyperplasia (prostate problems) affects 50 percent of men by age 50 and more than 80 percent by age 80.

More than 200,000 Americans are hospitalized each year for kidney stones.

One of every five people on dialysis might not be if they had followed their doctor's orders for treatment of high blood pressure.

Diabetes is the cause in 20 percent of all new cases of kidney failure.

Bad news on Japanese imports

The news this weekend that the United States will no longer ask Japan to extend its voluntary restraints on automobile imports after the end of this month is disturbing, particularly in this community with manufacturers steel used in autos and which is returning to the business of manufacturing car frame assemblies.

Chrysler Corporation Chairman Lee Iacocca called the decision "a sad day for America—for American workers and American jobs."

While some pressures remain for the Japanese to limit their auto imports or face a possible quota system imposed by Congress, most experts agree that Reagan's latest move is likely to increase the imports of Japanese cars by 10 to 20 percent, from 1.8 million cars in 1984 to 2.2 million in 1985.

According to the Federal Trade Commission, approximately 4,500 autoworkers can be expected to lose their jobs due to increased imports. Out of a workforce of 700,000, apparently the administration feels that is an acceptable loss of jobs in return for Japan possibly freeing up trade restrictions on U.S. telecommunications equipment, forest products, drugs, medical equipment and other products.

General Motors responded to the move to lift restraints with a sickening statement that removing international trade barriers will be healthy—healthy for GM, that is! GM will import hundreds of thousands of Isuzu and Suzuki Japanese cars for sale as Chevrolets, according to a company statement. It certainly will not be healthy to GM's American workers or suppliers.

Chrysler also will increase its imports, tripling the number of Japanese cars it imports from Mitsubishi Motors Corp. under the Chrysler name, Iacocca says. Ford is likely to follow suit.

This community could be hard hit. In addition to decreased steel orders, the removal of voluntary import restrictions on autos could slow the recovery at the A.O. Smith Corp. automotive frame plant here which is gearing up for production of front end units for new Fords and for frames for new Chryslers.

We seldom agree with U.S. Senator John C. Danforth (R-Mo.) but must on this issue. Danforth contends the action to lift the voluntary restraints "ratified the $37 billion bilateral trade deficit with Japan." Danforth also says, "One-way free trade is to continue between our two countries."

Without the administration's help, it will be up to Congress to try and control the flood of Japanese cars ruining our market. We urge Congress to watch the import issue closely and to consider threatening or actually imposing quotas if the surge becomes too great.

If Japan views the threat of quotas as real, perhaps it will continue its own kind of voluntary import quotas, just to keep the ax from falling.

Sports Time Cable Network

Granite City residents visiting the South-Western Cable TV, Ltd. office were asked Friday how they feel about Sports Time Cable Network going out of business. Officials from the network announced Thursday that they will fold the network on March 31.

John Young, Granite City

"I heard that Sports Time was folding, but it really doesn't bother me. I never had the channel because it is too expensive. I didn't think it was worth it, considering that the programs are only on at night."

Don Lloyd, Granite City

"I had Sports Time when it first came out and I really liked it. The reason I cancelled it, though, was because it didn't cover local high school teams like I thought it would. A lot of times they might show a game from someplace like Indiana, and I really didn't care to watch that. I was surprised that they cancelled it, because I really think it was a bargain, considering the price of going to a ballgame today."

Sherri Pinero, Granite City

"I don't watch Sports Time much, but my husband is a big Cardinals fan, so I think he'll miss it. I'm upset in a way, because it had all of the St. Louis teams on it. I'm also sorry to see it go because it helped keep my husband out of my hair."

Albert Howards, Granite City

"I'm glad it's (Sports Time) gone. I think the station stinks and I think the whole cable system stinks. It's just too expensive. They rationalize that they're giving you more stations for your money but I don't want to watch half of the things they have on their basic service—for example, C-Span, who wants to watch that?"

Accuses Miles of half-truths in campaign

To the Editor:

I read in the Feb. 18th issue of the Press-Record the comments made by Morris Miles and I would like to let you know that I am also appalled. I am appalled at Mr. Miles' half-truths and innuendoes.

Mr. Miles falsely stated that Mr. Walter Sparks alone has decided that the citizens of Chouteau Township do not need an ambulance. If Mr. Miles would even attend a township meeting he would know that one of the trustees running on his ticket also voted against signing the contract with Campbell Ambulance. The incumbent town clerk, who is also running on the same ticket as Mr. Miles, has publicly stated that she did not see how the township board could legally sign the ambulance contract with Campbell.

Either Mr. Miles is sorely misinformed, or he is only telling the side of the story that he wants heard. Mr. Miles referred to the Chouteau Township ambulance service as "hit and miss." I wonder what he means by this? Chouteau Township does have ambulance service, and will continue to have such.

If Mr. Miles was really concerned about making Chouteau Township a better place to live and grow, it seems as if he would attend township meetings with positive suggestions rather than surfacing every four months at election time with his mud slinging tactics.

Apparently Mr. Miles is not aware of the fact that at the present time Chouteau Township is involved in a $38,000 drainage project located in the Long Lake Park subdivision. This drainage project will drain the street ditches and surrounding yards into Long Lake.

Chouteau Township has experienced tremendous growth and development with Walter Sparks serving as township supervisor. Positive accomplishments of the past few years which have been made while maintaining a balanced budget include a beautiful township building and social center, a toll-free line to the sheriff's office, a new garage for updated highway equipment, development of a soccer field and concession stand for township youth, and the opening of the Animal Protection Agency on Old Alton Road. The list of accomplishments could go on and on, but I think I have made my point.

Upset that some schools not flying flags

To the Editor:

In currently reading a pamphlet regarding our American Flag, entitled "Flag Laws & Regulations" presented by our government states, "The American flag should be displayed daily during school days in or near every schoolhouse." Yet we have one parochial school in Venice that has not displayed an American flag during school days for nearly two years. Also, the parochial school in Madison has not had an American flag displayed for over one year. What logical reason is there for this?

How can you instill patriotism or love of country when a fundamental principle such as this is not put into effect? How can children be taught love of country, or pride in America when such apathy exists in our communities?

Whatever reason these flags are not flying is no excuse. Either they are not properly attached, or the lines are cut or stolen. This can be prevented easily by going to a steel aircraft cable coated with plastic, which is impossible to cut, or the halyard may be tied higher up the pole to prevent theft. There are flagpoles with an internal system that is theft proof, has a lock and key and the line is not exposed. It is that simple!

There are several banks in the area and financial institutions that do not have a flag flying on their premises. Most everywhere in the country, you will see an American flag flying in front of churches, bank buildings and financial institutions, which is common cause to show patriotism, if for no other reason.

In these days of disrespect for our country and flag, everything should be done to instill a pride in this great land. It seems no one cares one way or another. When some schools and banks do not fly our flag, who else, then, will follow in their wake?

There is no acceptable excuse for not flying our great American flag, from homes, banks, schools, government building—it is a privilege and honor. Don't let this privilege wither and die—too many patriots could go on and on, but I think I have made my point. "For God and Country."

Is strongly opposed to the seat belt law

To the Editor:

I would like to express my opinion about the mandatory seat belt law that goes into effect in Illinois on July 1, 1985.

1. I don't like it! When I use a seat belt, I feel like I am in a straight jacket. Others get claustrophobia. Wearing a seat belt all the time will take the pleasure out of owning and driving a car, one of America's greatest treasures.

2. Tourism will certainly diminish in states that have the law. I presently avoid states, wherever possible, that have passed a mandatory seat belt law.

3. For sales people, service people, or any person who make calls all day long, seat belts are a constant nuisance and a detriment to their efficiency and mental attitude.

4. Governor Thompson repeats what lobbyists for the auto companies say, "People who don't wear seat belts are a threat to others on the highway." This is certainly the most ridiculous and absolutely untrue statement that could be said. The direction and momentum of a vehicle is the threat to others, not whether or not a driver has a seat belt on.

5. Many people just don't feel safe with a seat belt on. They are afraid of being fastened in a position where they could die, pinned down, unable to get free from a fire, or from drowning. This has happened many times.

6. For people who have arthritis or other painful ailments in their shoulders, chest, or stomach, it is sinful to subject them to the ordeal of having to use seat belts.

7. Seat belts are alright for those who want to use them. But to MAKE US WEAR THEM, I feel, is THE GREATEST INTRUSION OF OUR CIVIL RIGHTS IN THIS CENTURY.

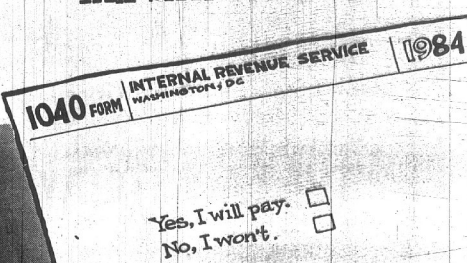

8. I have talked to hundreds of people and have, as yet, found NO ONE who wants MANDATORY seat belts. I would bet that less than 2 percent of the people want such a law.

9. I want to let Governor Thompson and all of our legislators know that WE WANT THIS LAW REPEALED!

10. I appeal to all citizens of Illinois. Let yourselves be heard! Write letters to the governor, your state representatives and state senators. Sign and circulate petitions. Contact us if you want to help.

Wants the city to get rid of stray dogs

To the Editor:

Has anybody seen the Granite City Humane Department truck? We only have one and everytime I see it, it is empty of stray dogs.

Yet my neighborhood is loaded with stray dogs. It seems these pests are constantly knocking over trash cans, tearing open trash bags and becoming a general nuisance and making one heck of a mess in our streets and alleys.

I have called the humane department many times the past few years about stray dogs, and their reply was, "If you can catch them and hold them, we will come over and pick them up."

To date, I have not seen their truck in this area. Just wait until one of these hungry mongrels attacks one of our children, then we will get some action from City Hall (we hope).

It is getting so that I cannot walk to the store without being threatened by a large stray dog, and I mean large.

When I was in the U.S. Navy stationed in the Philippine Islands, the stray dog problem got so bad, that the commander of the base ordered out the U.S. Marines with shotguns to being the situation under control.

We don't have to go that far in Granite, but something should be done to keep these animals from running free in our city.

A dog bite always carries the possibility of the dread disease rabies.

I don't want to take all those shots.

Says GC needs housing code

To the Editor:

As a concerned property owner in Granite City, I am compelled to express my disgust with the recent action by the Board of Aldermen in their failure to establish an ad hoc committee to study a much-needed minimum housing code. This is a slap in the face to those Granite City residents who take pride in the maintenance and appearance of their neighborhoods and can only result in the further deterioration of our residential community.

I speak from first-hand experience since the house next to my property (located in the vacant area) is in a severely blighted condition for more than two years. Repeated complaints to City Hall have netted no positive results and, consequently, I am forced to accept the negative effects this situation has had on the value of my property.

Ironically, Second Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer feels that he has served on too many ad hoc committees and that someone else should conduct the housing code study. I invite Alderman Whitmer to visit our neighborhood to observe the need that HIS constituents have for a minimum housing code.

GC mayor campaign picking up steam

As the campaign for mayor of Granite City continues to heat up, two of the candidates challenging incumbent Mayor Paul Schuler issued statements this week discussing what they would do if elected. Schuler declined comment at this time.

One of the hopefuls, Granite City Street Superintendent Mac Warfield, who also is the county Democratic chairman, issued a statement pledging that, if elected, he would be a full-time mayor.

Warfield, who open his campaign headquarters from 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday at Nameoki Village Shopping Center (formerly Truller's), stated, "Granite City deserves a full-time mayor with an open door to the people. This town is a community of hard-working people who give an honest day's work for an honest day's wage. It is only right that their mayor do the same."

He noted that he has not taken a vacation from his job as street commissioner in the last three years. "I mean no offense to my opponents, but their work habits have not given them the kind of day-to-day contact I have with the people. Being on call 24 hours a day, seven days a week, and going into people's neighborhoods and places of business to fix sewer breaks, repair streets, remove dead trees and provide other services has given me a familiarity with our city's problems and people my opponents will be hard-pressed to match," he noted.

Another opponent, Granite City Township Assessor Von Dee Cruse, issued a "positive paper" saying that Granite City residents need direct toll-free telephone service to the county seat in Edwardsville. He called for Granite City leadership...

...to enter into meaningful discussions with the telephone company to provide the kind of direct service the community desires and needs. I pledge to undertake those discussions after I am elected."

He noted, "We can, for instance, dial direct to the old Cahokia Court-house in St. Clair County, but we must pay a toll to call our own courthouse on the southern outskirts of East St. Louis, deep in St. Clair County," Cruse said.

Edwardsville...and the presence of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has greatly increased the need for direct communication to that community.

"In short, it is time for our community and the telephone company to recognize the great economic and demographic changes that have taken place in recent decades. There is little question that a referendum would show that Granite Cityans desire direct phone service to Edwardsville far more than they do to Cahokia, Centerville and Alorton on the southern outskirts of East St. Louis, deep in St. Clair County," Cruse said.

Cruse and Mayor Schuler already have opened campaign headquarters along the Nameoki Road shopping centers. Warfield pledges that the opening of his campaign headquarters Sunday will be "more of a family outing than a political event."

He noted, "My wife, Betty, and I are opening the doors of our campaign to the people of Granite City. One reason why I am running for mayor is I believe the doors of city hall should be as open after an election as the doors of a campaign headquarters are before an election."

After the headquarters opening, Warfield plans to continue his door-to-door campaign to seek votes.

GC MAN IS CHARGED WITH POSSESSION OF CANNABIS

Christopher E. DeRuntz, 17, of 4609 Maryville Road, was charged with possession of cannabis at 10:40 a.m. Thursday, after Granite City High School officials allegedly found 17 cannabis cigarettes in his possession.

The complaint against DeRuntz was signed by R. Buehler, assistant principal at the school.

By JIM WOODCOCK

Bruce Locher was replaced Thursday as special prosecutor in the case against former supervisor of assessments James Barton and five others.

Marshall "Zeke" Smith, former assistant state's attorney in Don Weber's administration, was named Locher's successor.

A statement from Locher's office said Circuit Judge Phillip Rarick said in his order Thursday naming Smith as the new special prosecutor.

In the past, Smith had criticized delays in bringing Barton to trial and the cost to taxpayers.

A source close to Locher said he is uncertain what he will do, but that the source will hear more from him soon. The source said Locher feels the order is not "cut and dried."

THE ORDER from Rarick came a day after State's Attorney's Dick Allen filed a motion seeking the removal of Locher as special prosecutor against Barton and five others.

A press release from Allen said the county seeks "other competent counsel at a more reasonable cost to the county."

The motion asks the courts to appoint a local, disinterested attorney to assume the special prosecutor's duties. The state's attorney's office itself will not prosecute in the case.

"I have steadfastly maintained that I will not have the state's attorney's office handle the Barton case because of alleged conflict on my part made in the heat of the campaign," Allen said in the release.

ALLEN's announcement came just after the Illinois State Attorney General's office said it would not provide a special prosecutor to replace Locher. Allen had informal-

Public hearing slated on Nameoki road district budget

Nameoki Township officials will conduct a public hearing at 7 p.m. Monday, March 25, on a tentative road district budget for March 1, 1985, through Feb. 28, 1986.

The tentative budget calls for expenditures totaling $394,054. Of that, $225,554 is to come from the general road fund, while $168,500 is to come from the permanent road fund. Another $28,000 is provided through the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund.

According to the budget, the township expects to receive $222,500 in revenues for the general road fund from various sources, including property taxes, rental fees, contracts for work for the village of Pontoon Beach and Madison County, and other miscellaneous incomes.

In the administrative division of the general fund, township officials expect to spend $18,678 on personnel and $37,400 for contractual services, bringing the administrative division of the budget to $77,550.

Officials budgeted $104,304 for the road division, which includes $72,304 in personnel expenditures and $32,000 for supplies and commodities.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED

Attorney At Law

Frequently the question arises as to whether or not an individual involved in a one-car accident is entitled to coverage under his own automobile insurance policy. Most automobile policies provide that the insured is not entitled to recover under his own policy in the event he is driving at the time of the one-car accident. Would the result be different in the event that another person is driving your car in which you are injured in a similar one-car mishap? A case will help clarify the issues involved in this situation.

A plaintiff in a 1971 case was the owner of the automobile, and she filed suit against her own insurance company for personal injuries sustained by her while she was riding as a passenger in her own car. The car was driven by a friend who had no insurance. The one-car accident occurred when the car left the road and struck a large rock. The plaintiff had substantial medical bills and attempted to recover under the uninsured motorist provision of her own policy.

The automobile policy contained liability coverage in the amount of $20,000. All parties acknowledged that the injured passenger was not entitled to recover under the liability portion of her policy based on a provision in the policy which excluded such coverage. However, the policy also contained an uninsured motorist provision. The issue which the Court had to decide is whether the uninsured motorist coverage was applicable in a case such as this.

The insurance company argued that under the terms of the passenger's own policy, she was not covered by the uninsured motorist provision because at the time of the accident she was riding in an insured automobile. The plaintiff argued that since the defendant had no insurance of his own, and because the liability portion of her policy did not apply to her in this situation, that therefore the defendant was in fact an uninsured motorist, even though there was insurance on the car he was driving.

The Court noted that the Insurance Code of this state requires every automobile liability policy to contain uninsured motorist coverage. The Court felt that the purpose of this provision was to ensure that compensation would be available to policyholders in the event of injury by an uninsured motorist. To allow the insurance company to avoid the obligation in this case would be contrary, they felt, to the intent of the legislature.

Local dairy participates in effort to find children

Clark Hahnda is a wirey framed, curly-haired 5-year-old raised in Fairfield, Conn.

Antonella Mattina is an olive-skinned, brown-eyed girl of 12 from Flushing, N.Y.

Louis Mackerley is a 4-foot-tall, blonde-haired, blue-eyed 8-year-old from Allentown, Penn.

What do these children have in common?

They are among an estimated 25,000 to 50,000 children criminally abducted from their homes and families. They also are among the first children whose photos have appeared on millions of milk cartons distributed throughout the country by the National Child Safety Council (NCS) under a new program being conducted in conjunction with more than 500 dairies.

Prairie Farms Dairy, Inc., of Granite City is one of the dairies participating in the program.

"In the three weeks since we began the National Child Abducted Milk Carton Program, sightings of missing children have increased a dramatic 30 to 50 percent," stated H.R. Wilkinson, founder and president of the Michigan-based NCS.

The NCS's campaign is being launched in two phases, officials say. The first, begun in January, is designed to locate previously abducted children. The second phase, launched this month, is designed to try to educate children in an attempt to reduce the likelihood of their becoming victims.

Wilkinson said that tips on how to reduce the likelihood of abduction, presented by a character named "Safetyguy," now appear on millions of school milk cartons.

Safetyguy is a hero figure who presents information such as "never go with strangers" and then explains why a stranger is and what to do if approached by one.

Both the National Abducted Children's Education Program and the National School Milk Carton Program were initiated with the cooperation of dairy companies and milk carton manufacturers. McDonald Dairy Company in Michigan and the Milk Industry Foundation were primary industry catalysts of the national effort, Wilkinson said.

He also has announced the release of the updated Abducted Children Directory. The directory is distributed to every police department, state police headquarters, sheriff's office and FBI office in the country by the NCS.

Drug and alcohol awareness to be emphasized this week

The National PTA is urging parents to talk to their children about drugs during the association's first Drug and Alcohol Awareness Week, March 3 through 9.

"Prevention Begins At Home," the week's theme, reflects the PTA's message that parents can influence their children's decisions regarding alcohol and other drug use.

"Reports indicate that children as young as nine and ten years old already know about drugs," said Elaine Stenkenmeyer, National PTA president. "Parents need to recognize that fact and understand that they can help their children by learning about drugs and alcohol and talking to their kids when they're as young as five years old."

During Awareness Week, the National PTA, with assistance from thousands of PTAs across the country, will not only be teaching parents drug abuse facts, but also providing them with suggestions on how to help their children avoid drug use. The National PTA believes the key to reducing the number of young drug and alcohol abusers is prevention and that prevention can and should begin at home. "Our goal is to increase awareness of the need for parents to act now to prevent drug and alcohol abuse," said Mrs. Stenkenmeyer.

The National PTA has passed 17 resolutions pertaining to alcohol and drug education and smoking since 1983. In 1983, the PTA launched the Drug and Alcohol Abuse Prevention project, co-founded the National Coalition for the Prevention of Drug and Alcohol Abuse and supported the National Chemical People PBS project. Annually, the National PTA has awarded grants to community PTAs to conduct intensive drug abuse prevention programs in those communities. In 1984, PTA convention delegates passed two resolutions calling on PTAs to urge the television broadcasting industry to eliminate advertising of all alcoholic beverages depicting scenes drinking when not related to the program story lines and to attempt to eliminate advertising of all alcoholic beverages, including beer and wine. "Young Children and Drugs:

What Parents Can Do," a National PTA publication, offers some ideas to help parents raise healthy children who are free of drugs. The publication (available in English and Spanish) points out that parents should learn the facts about alcohol and other drugs so they can communicate with children and teach their youngsters to feel good about themselves. "Drug Abuse and Your Teens: What Parents Should Know" is another publication available from the National PTA.

Drug and Alcohol Awareness Week planning kits have been made available to over 6,000 PTAs across the country through a generous grant from Chevron U.S.A. Inc., the official sponsor of the week.

For more information about Drug and Alcohol Awareness Week, interested persons may contact Maria Grayson, Sharon McNeil, National PTA, 700 North Rush Street, Chicago, Ill. 60611, 1-312-787-0977.

Schools urged to use newspapers

Newspapers can serve as important classroom tools, according to State Superintendent of Education Ted Sanders. Sanders is encouraging Illinois schools and newspapers to participate in Newspaper in Education Week, March 4 through 8.

"Newspapers provide the opportunity for students to apply skills and concepts they learn in the classroom and transfer them to everyday life," Sanders said. Newspaper in Education (NIE) Week is a national campaign to urge schools and newspapers to plan activities during the week that emphasize the importance of the newspaper as an effective teaching resource.

The observation in Illinois is sponsored by the Illinois Reading Council and Illinois newspapers. National sponsors are the International Reading Association and the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

The week can include a variety of activities for students, from discussions of current events to measuring the local job market through analyses of classified advertisements. Many newspapers also will offer tours of their facilities and assign reporters to cover school activities.

"Newspaper in Education Week is an excellent time for educators and the media to highlight the value of newspapers in the classroom. ## Concrete company may build plant

Upchurch Ready-Mix Concrete apparently will be able to build a new plant on Route 157 near the eastern end of State Aid 35.

Assistant State's Attorney Dan O'Neill said this morning that the county board did not have enough members present at a meeting two weeks ago to defeat a rezoning request which would allow the plant to be built.

THE BOARD voted on Feb. 20 to override the decision of the zoning board of appeals to approve rezoning of the tract from agriculture to M-3, heavy industrial.

The 10-acre tract is owned by Robert and Joy Kostens of Collinsville.

The county board voted 18-6 to override the zoning board of appeals. Four board members were absent.

However, a three-fourths vote of the entire board was needed to override the zoning board of appeals, or 21 of the 28 board members, O'Neill said.

BECAUSE the necessary majority vote was not obtained, the approved rezoning stands, he said.

There was considerable opposition to the plant expressed at the Feb. 20 meeting. Board member Nick Hamlin of Glen Carbon, told the board he had several letters from officials, including Collinsville Mayor Gene Brombolich, opposing the rezoning.

O'Neill said there are still legal remedies available to opponents.

He said he will prepare a written opinion for the board and notify attorneys of Upchurch, the Kostens and opponents of the proposed plant of his decision.

AT LEAST one county board member thinks the county board's action Feb. 20 should have been sufficient to deny rezoning.

William Haine, an attorney from Alton, said the zoning board's recommendation for rezoning required approval from three-fourths of the board because landowners filed petitions against rezoning.

Because 18 of 24 members present actually voted against the zoning board's recommendation, the issue should be dead and rezoning should be denied, Haine told reporters.

Mrs. Kosten said this week that a petition with the names of between 35 and 40 residents in favor of the rezoning was given to her attorney, William Schooley of Granite City.

"I am flattered that Walter Sparks issued a challenge for me for public debate on the issues he has not provided during all his years of service. I am not interested in a debate with

Warriors clip Redbirds for conference crown

Share Title With Kahoks

"I sat up there and just enjoyed the game. Scared like heck we had to play them (Alton) the next night."

Granite City High basketball coach Don Deterding, who witnessed the Alton Redbirds' smashing 83-75 victory over East St. Louis on Friday night, Less than a week earlier, East St. Louis routed Deterding's Warriors, 90-69.

GRANITE CITY — They say a tie is like kissing your sister.

Not when you're Coach Don Deterding of the Granite City High basketball Warriors, and the tie is a piece of the Southwestern Conference title.

Not when you took the Warrior coaching job approximately 18 years ago so you could coach in the SWC. Even if it did mean leaving behind a secure coaching position in Effingham, where you had taken the basketball team to new, dizzy heights. The town had to be thrilled.

HEY, you grew up in the SWC, and played the pivot for legendary Vergil Fletcher at Collinsville, for goodness sakes.

"From what coach has been telling us..." said Warrior marksman Jeff Gray.

"I think the kids were getting tired of me saying, 'Southwestern Conference (that)'," said Deterding. He would excuse them, though. The kids didn't know much about it really. This season marked the Warriors' first year back in the SWC, after leaving the Conference about 10 years ago, when Jeff Gray hadn't even looked at a 20-footer, and the meanest look Don Stevanus could hope to muster couldn't shake the babysitter let alone an opposing player? How could the Warriors know things would get tougher after they surprised everyone, including their coach, when they won their first five SWC games.

THEY HAD played in the defunct Gateway East Conference, and not very well at that, with the two Granite City high schools at the time, South and North, alternating for the league's lower spots.

Well, things did get rougher for the Warriors after they put daylight between themselves and the rest of the SWC.

They messed up. When things reached their gloomiest point, the Warriors reached back Saturday night at Memorial Gymnasium before one of the largest, most boisterous crowds of the season. They returned in glory and a piece of the Southwestern Conference title, throttling Alton's Redbirds, 69-60.

The victory in the final regular season contest for both teams leaves the Warriors with a SWC mark of 7-3, the same as Collinsville. The Kahoks earned a piece of the title by ambushing Belleville East Friday.

THE WARRIORS, 16-9 overall, next play Tuesday night against Foxana in an opening round game of the Edwardsville Regional. The tournament also includes the host Tigers and Collinsville.

As a team, the Warriors still probably don't comprehend what they've achieved. They probably don't know that a tie for the SWC title is BETTER than kissing your sister.

"They'd say, 'Yeah, oh yeah. That's great,'" said Deterding, when he talked with his players about the SWC. "But they didn't know what it meant," Deterding said in his office just outside the lockerroom. They're happy. Don't get me wrong. They just don't understand what they've accomplished. Next year's team will."

WARRIOR forward Kurt Hylla, a senior, won't be next year's team. He said the significance of the Warriors' accomplishment in tying for the SWC title hadn't struck with full impact.

"Not right now," he said. "But I guess it will as the years pass on."

"It's great," said senior Jeff Gray of the feat. "With what coach has been saying. It's got a good reputation. It's good competition."

Then Gray said something else. If the players weren't quite able to appreciate the SWC tie, their coach certainly could.

"I'M GLAD we were able to win it for him," Gray said. "It meant a lot to him."

As for the players, well, there were other things that spurred them on to their highest level of play in several weeks.

Not only was it the seniors' final game at Memorial Gymnasium, but who could overlook the adulation that poured down from the fans. Did you see the football player who came dressed as a baby and was rolled into the gymnasium, sucking from a bottle?

How was it the Warriors could lose by 21 points, then turn around the next weekend and play so well against a team that had their coach quivering in his spectator's seat?

JOE GRAY, the Warriors' steady point guard, wasted little time or words.

"We wanted it," he said. "Tonight we were hungry," said Deterding.

The Warriors, following Deterding's game plan, put a death grip on the Redbirds' running attack ("You let them run, and they get fired up. Boom, boom, boom and all that state," Deterding said), toughened up their defense close to the basket ("They didn't get one alley oop," said Deterding), outplayed and outmuscled the Redbirds for loose balls and rebounds, and in general outlasted and outplayed their more talented counterparts.

THE REDBIRDS managed just 21 points in the first half, mostly because they only got 19 shots at the basket.

The Warriors, in turn, sent 32 shots at the Redbird hoop and totaled 31 first-half points.

Jeff Gray was one of the bombardiers. He connected on his first five shots from the field (12 of 24 for the contest) and finished with a season high 33 points.

The Warriors' Scott Cant and Joe Gray chipped in with 13 and 10 points respectively while 6-9 center Stevanus helped out with 12 rebounds. Cant had 10 boards. Hylla scored seven points.

The Warriors took a 17-12 first-quarter lead, and never relinquished control. The Redbirds pulled to within six points early in the fourth quarter, but that was the closest they got.

THE REDBIRDS, who fouled out three players in the fourth quarter including their best player, Larry Smith, could only hope the fouls would reap dividends. They didn't. The Warriors knocked down 21 of 25 free throws in the final quarter.

For the Redbirds, it was a study of frustration. Not only were they unable to get their running game untracked, they played without one of their leading players, Jeff Herd.

Herd knocked East St. Louis for a loop the previous night with 27 points, and was then knocked for a loop himself with a throat infection.

With Herd firing shots and clearing the boards, "It would have been a different ballgame," Redbird Coach Stan McAfoos said.

"That was unfortunate for them," said Deterding. "But we lost two games without Scott Cant. Maybe it evened itself out."

Also, the Redbirds played with no hope of gaining a SWC title tie, their last chance erased with Collinsville's victory over Belleville East.

It had to be an emotional letdown for them," said Deterding.

This is the second time in the last three years (the last time was the 1971-72 season) a Warrior team under Deterding has gained a share of the SWC title.

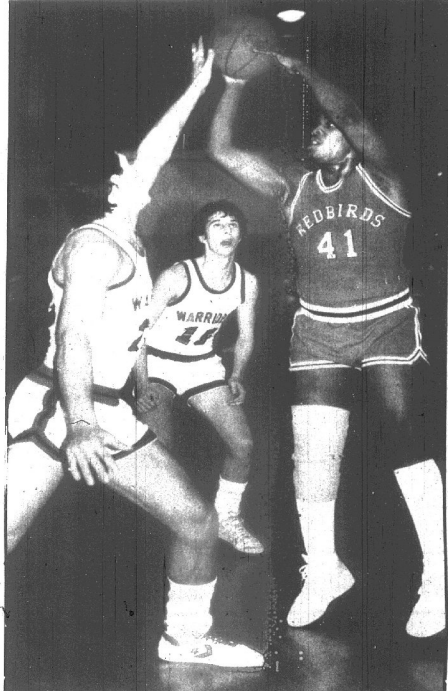

Then, however, who's counting?

ALTON SCORING 12 9 13 26-60

'Spirted' skaters finish second in Mid-States hockey

By JOE THOMPSON
of the Press-Record

ST. LOUIS — When the struggle is over, win or lose, a young man's fancy is apt to turn to things other than the game just played.

So it was with the Granite City High Warrior hockey team, a spirited group of kids who gave all they had in a 10-5 loss to ultra-talented DeSmet in the championship game of the Mid-States Hockey League last Thursday night at the Arena.

Some Warrior players discovered second place had its rewards when a group of cheerleaders from Mehlville High School draped silver medals around their necks in a ceremony afterward.

DeSmet players received gold medals. Each team received a huge plaque for their lofty achievement.

"The Mehlville cheerleaders," said the Warriors' Steve Stegelmeier, when the subject of highlights was mentioned.

"Oh, they're beautiful. I can't say enough about them," said defenseman Dave Yurkovich, who scored the Warriors' final goal on, of all things, a wrist shot.

Chimed in Dave Young, "Especially the one on the left."

"They were alright," agreed defenseman Todd Hinterser, just a sophomore.

THE disappointment of seeing their best season ever end at 24-5, a dark recollection of a second period when DeSmet scored four straight goals to take a 6-2 lead, the warm thought of a furious third period rally when they stormed the DeSmet goal to close the gap to 7-4 and nearly 7-5 only to see the puck hop over Mark Doniff's stick (bumpy ice) on a break, the "what if's" and "gee whizzes," quickly dissipated in the spirit of youth.

"We can't feel bad about finishing in second place," Warrior coach Gary Henson said. "There's 26 other teams watching this game. There's no reason to feel bad."

IN FACT, the only thing that had Henson bristling was the Warriors' constant tag as "underdogs." Maybe they were against DeSmet. But is that any reason why Henson and players should be subjected to taunts, opposing fans calling them "farmers" and "hicks?" Henson didn't think so.

"We're eight miles from (downtown St. Louis). They're (DeSmet fans) probably 23 miles away," Henson said. "I lived in Kirkwood. I grew up in rich man's (country). I love living in Granite City. It's (moving to Granite) the best move I ever made."

Coach Ron Guiley of DeSmet's Spartans, who have now won five Mid-States League titles and whose entry this year finished at 27-1, paid nothing to Granite City but the deepest of respects.

"FOR THEIR talent, and I'm not knocking their talent," Guiley said, "Garry did a wonderful job. They (the Warriors) played very well together as a team. Especially on their power play (the Warriors scored their first two goals with a man advantage). They have a strong defense."

The Warriors also were given something else. Powerful stuff. Several hundred of their fans were on hand to cheer them on, including a large section of Granite City students and cheerleaders, who placed more than a half dozen signs at strategic points around the Arena.

THE SIGNS offered encouraging words such as, "G.C. Warriors Are No. 1," "Slaughter the Spartans," "Skate Over The Spartans," "Down DeSmet," "DeSmet! Has Duck Fever," "Go Get 'em Granite."

A favorite of many read, "We Love The Warriors." Instead of the word "love," however, a large red heart was inserted.

Defenseman Bill Moore, like Yurkovich long on cheer, borrowed a word made famous by teen idol Sean Penn in the movie, "Fast Times At Ridgemont High." What was it like to step onto the ice and receive so much adulation?

"AWESOME," Moore said. "I was impressed."

"Fifteen goals (that was worth the four bucks (price of admission))." Moore rattled on.

"I would rather have eight goals and then seven," Hinterser pointed out.

DeSmet, which did not boast one sign, tried to square matters in that department — tearing down all but a few of the Warrior banners.

That was okay, though. The War-

National Champions Again

Cougars retain national title; three champions are named

DAYTON, Ohio — Coach Larry Kristoff and his wrestlers of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville had done it again. For them, Sunday's clinching of their second consecutive NCAA Division II national championship was an encore performance, but one of mixed emotions.

The Cougars had won the national championship, but they weren't too happy with the manner in which they arrived at that honor.

WITH SIX of its wrestlers vying for championship honors, only three — 118-pound sophomore Tim Wright, 134-pound junior Alan Grammer and 177-pound senior Booker Benford emerged as champions. The three-champion total tied their record of last year. It was their inability, the disappointment of only matching last year's record, which seemed to supersede the thrill of victory.

"We're satisfied and happy with the championship, but disappointed with our team finish. I don't know what happened. Everyone should have won, everyone was good enough to win, but it just didn't turn out that way," Kristoff said in a statement released by SIUE assistant sports information director Ron English.

MAURICE Brown, a 142-pound senior, Ernie Badger, a 190-pound junior and senior heavyweight Al Sears all lost their championship matches. All three, ironically, were rated No. 1 in the division and had beaten their opponents previously.

Wright, Badger and Benford were defending champions. Wright, a sophomore of Rock Island, is now a two-time national champion with his sights set on becoming the first ever four-time NCAA Division II national champion.

To State Meet

Local swimmers advance nine

EDWARDSVILLE — Nine local swimmers who belong to the Edwardsville YMCA swim team qualified last weekend for the state meet in Glen Ellyn March 16 and 17. The regional qualifying meet was held at the Sam Vadalabene Center on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Two local members of the team also turned in national YMCA qualifying times which gives them a berth into the National YMCA meet in Florida in April.

EARNING that berth for the Edwardsville YMCA squad are Patti Martin and David Baker, both swimming in the 15-18 age division.

Martin earned her national qualifying times by finishing the 200 meter individual medley, the 100 meter butterfly and 100 meter backstroke in times of 2:18.98, 59.69 and 1:05.27 respectively.

Baker stroked his way into the national meet by way of the 50 meter freestyle, an event he finished in 23.16. The times, obviously, not only qualify the two swimmers for the national meet, but also for the state meet.

OTHER swimmers qualifying for the state meet include Jenny Baker, 9-10 year, Lynn Yehling, 11-12 years; Kelly Reed, Tonya Geske and D'Na Hankins, 13-14 years; Steven Geske, 8 years and under, and Corey Reed, 9-10 years.

Baker was first in both the 100 meter individual medley with a time of 1:11.81 and the 200 meter freestyle relay with a time of 2:00.91. Both were record-breaking performances.

Yehling earned her berth to the state meet by finishing first in the 100 meter freestyle with a time of 1:08.24.

SWIMMING in the 13-14 girls division, Kelly Reed, D'Na Hankins and Tonya Geske each earned firsts to qualify for the state meet.

Kelly Reed was first in the 200 meter freestyle and the 100 meter butterfly, turning in times of 2:09.43 and 1:09.01 respectively.

Hankins was first in the 100 meter breast stroke with a time of 1:17.41 while Tonya Geske was first with a time of 2:29.04.

The three also teamed to qualify for the state meet in the 200 meter medley relay, an event they won with a time of 2:05.92. Hankins and Tonya Geske continued their successful ways as the duo teamed to win the 200 meter freestyle relay with a time of 1:57.57.

STEVEN GESKE, the youngest state qualifier of the nine, qualified by virtue of his second-place finish in the 100 meter freestyle relay and a fifth-place finish in the 50 meter freestyle.

Finally inside 10 seconds, the Wildcats went to their big man, Darrell Miller, who had his shot partially deflected.

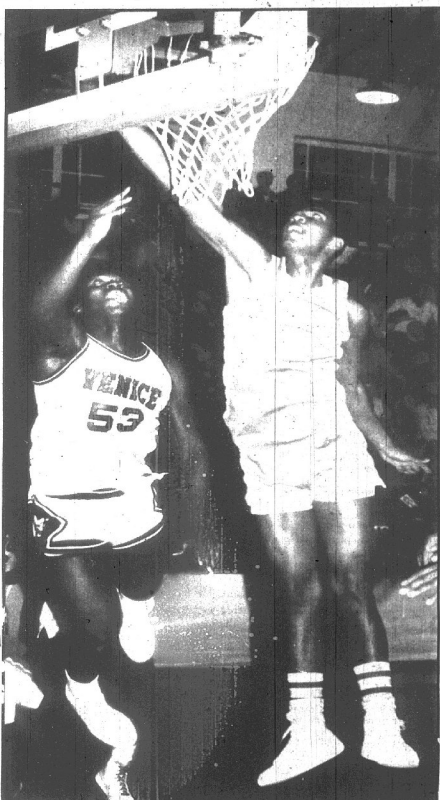

"Being here and being a part of this is a great thing. This is a great day for our team," said an extremely proud Watson.

Reggie Banks and Deloyd Williams paced the Trojan attack with 15 points each. Anthony Newson hit for 11 points, followed by Anthony Valentine with 10, Bennett with nine

Monday SPORTS*Hayes Aides In Victory*Son-Life wins tournament

ST. LOUIS — The Son-Life School basketball team had an old-fashioned showdown with Gateway Christian in the finals of the St. Louis Metropolitan Christian Athletic Association last Saturday, and Son-Life had the hot hand when it counted.

The Son-Life Warriors trailed by as many as 11 points in the third quarter of the championship game, played at Tower Grove Baptist in St. Louis, but they used a late spurt to steal the game away from Gateway, 51-47.

And there was plenty on the line. The two teams tied for the top spot in the association's regular season standing with 8-2 records. According to Coach Rich Kotras, the tournament title meant a little extra to the second-year program.

"They really wanted this one," Kotras said. "They were determined. I truly believe they won because they outthrust the other teams and they worked."

And Kotras had a trick he was saving for Gateway, a full-court man-to-man defense. Son-Life, now 20-3 overall, usually sticks to a 2-1-2 zone, but with the Son-Life Warriors trailing in the third quarter, Kotras went for broke.

"Gateway played a man-to-man all game, and when we put it on them, they must have run out of juice," Kotras said. "We just ran the basic offense all game. We kept working the ball inside, and the shots just started to fall."

The shots didn't fall for Son-Life in the first half. They trailed 12-6 after one period and were down 21-14 at halftime.

But Son-Life slashed the lead during the third quarter and finally pushed on top with two minutes left in the game. Son-Life's free throw with 14 seconds left gave them a three-point lead, but Gateway came right back with a free throw to make the score 49-47.

However, Scott Steinkoenig sealed the championship by hitting two free throws with four seconds left.

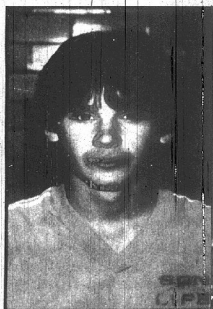

Wrigley, Son-Life's 6-foot 5-inch center led the Warriors with 23 points, while Steinkoenig scored 14. Frank Hayes finished with 10 and Brad Bourland scored four.

Hayes, who's in his first year at the Christian School, is a junior forward from Granite City.

Son-Life had another close game in the semifinals Friday, when it defeated Tower Grove 41-39. Tower Grove effectively slowed the Warriors' run-and-gun offense, but they were able to hold on.

"We packed our defense in tight and let them shoot from the outside," Kotras said. "We maintained our patience."

Wrigley again led Son-Life with 24 points, while Hayes finished with eight, Paul Malter scored five,

Frank Hayes

Bourland had three and Steinkoenig scored one.

In the Thursday's first-round action, Son-Life destroyed an outmanned Northwest Academy squad 88-20.

Son-Life will now prepare for next week's Tournament of Champions, a 16-team tournament at Gray Summit, Mo.

The hockey tournament at the rink will be Saturday from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m.

MAC summer sports sign-up

The temperature has begun to break the 50-degree mark so spring must be just around the corner. Another sure sign of spring's impending presence is the Mitchell Athletic Club's announcement of baseball and softball registrations.

Beginning today, and continuing through the next two Mondays, the MAC will be registering both boys and girls for its summer leagues. Registration is Monday, March 4, 11 and 18, from 6 to 8 p.m. at the Mitchell Elementary School Gymnasium.

To register, children must have their seventh birthday this year and they can be no older than 15 this year.

The fee for registering is $15 for the first child and $10 addition for each additional child in the same family.

Persons seeking further information should contact Myron Merz at 931-1218. Merz said the association is also seeking umpires for the summer leagues.

Jobs coordinator addresses group

Darrel Seim, jobs coordinator with the Veterans Outreach Investment Counseling and Education Services (VOICES), addressed the Willing Workers organization at its meeting during the weekend at the Tri-City Area YMCA.

Explaining that VOICES primarily serves Vietnam-era veterans, Seim said the group will also assist veterans from the Korean War and World War II.

He reported that VOICES' offices are located at 116 Hillsboro St., Edwardsville, but noted that he is available every Tuesday afternoon at the Granite City American Legion Post 113 Hall, 1025 State St., to provide assistance.

Veterans interested in learning more about the job, food and mortgage assistance program, plus other services available through VOICES, are invited to contact Seim at 1-692-6290, Ext. 4752.

In the regular business session, the Willing Workers voted to become involved once again in the Granite City Craft Show, scheduled June 30 at Wilson Park, and to participate in the annual "Handicapped Job Fair," set April 19.

A new project in which members voted to take part is collecting cancelled stamps for the Salvation Army food assistance program.

The Willing Workers will hold their next meeting at 10 a.m. March 23, at the Tri-City Area YMCA. Meetings are open to any local resident who is unemployed and is interested in the Willing Workers program.

Madison County Circuit Judge Philip J. Rarick sentenced Wallace to serve 10 years in prison on the burglary charges and five years on the theft charge.

Theft conviction leads to one-year probation

A year of probation has been ordered for Tammy Means, 20, of 1919a Benton St. after she pleaded guilty on Jan. 28 to a charge of theft under $300.

The woman originally was charged on Feb. 10, 1984, with perjury. Madison County Circuit Judge Philip J. Rarick also ordered her to pay $35 in court costs.

Passenger hurt on GC overpass

In an accident on the 19th Street Overpass in the early morning hours last week, Wayne A. Bailey, 18, of 2849 Harding Blvd., a passenger in an auto operated by Gary L. Bailey, 20, of the same address, sustained a minor injury.

Gary Bailey said he was traveling west on the overpass when his auto was struck for the rear by another car driven by Johnny E. Adlear, 18, of 2316 Iowa St.

Adler contended that both vehicles were traveling east on the overpass when Bailey's car made a sudden stop in front of him.

Both motorists came to the Granite City Police Department to make a report and officers were unable to determine which driver was accurate in recounting the direction of travel.

ALLEGED MAN HAS WEAPON IN AUTO

An officer stopped a 1973 Buick with a Missouri license plate last week to check on its registration and alleged the license failed to match the vehicle make.

Arthur L. Teller, 38, of 40 Parktowne West, was charged with not having a valid registration and driving with a suspended driver's license. A warrant alleging driving with a suspended license also was served on Teller.

He was further charged with possession of a firearm without a Firearm Owner's Identification card when a .22-caliber—410-gauge over-and-under rifle—shotgun was found in a brown rifle case on the rear floor of the vehicle.

Teller was released at 1:15 a.m. today after posting a $306 cash bond.

O: Nearly 5 years ago I defaulted on a loan. I'm in the process of applying for another loan and I am concerned about the questions on the application pertaining to my repayment record. Since the default was so long ago, I am tempted to skip those questions. I, of course, don't plan on defaulting again, inasmuch as my employment situation has changed considerably, and I am much more financially responsible and able to meet my obligations. I'm just afraid to remind the lender of my past indiscretions. Is this acceptable?

A: No. Your past default will probably cost you several rating points when your new loan application is reviewed. It may or may not disqualify you from getting the loan. However, failure to report the default will automatically deny you the loan. Loan applications are checked thoroughly. Your best course of action in all such situations is to be totally truthful, no matter how embarrassing it may be. As you pointed out, your new situation will probably work for you, but failure to file a truthful application will definitely work against you.

Wolf calls school plan a good start

Calling Governor Thompson's new education initiative a "good starting point," State Representative Sam Wolf (D-Granite City) said he senses a real commitment toward education reform in Illinois.

"The governor's proposal is a good foundation, but it's not the final product," Wolf said. "Legislators now must carefully scrutinize the plan and refine the specifics."

The governor's program calls for: —$330 million in new dollars for elementary and secondary education.

—Competency testing for all new teachers.

—Full-day kindergarten in all school districts.

—Expanded pre-school programs. School "report cards" evaluating how well schools are preparing students.

—Raising minimum teacher's base salary to $15,000 per year.

—Consolidation incentives for small school districts.

—Discipline programs to combat violence and substance abuse in schools.

"These proposals are all integral to an effective reform package. However, I see three basic areas of concern," Wolf said. "First whether the funding is realistic. Second, whether the proposal requires additional mandates, and third, whether the plan will include removal of incompetent teachers."

Wolf noted that many school districts are operating on a deficit budget, and additional mandates would only intensify this burden, regardless of new revenue sources.

"While I generally support Thompson's plan, I am not convinced that the economic growth assumed by the governor will supply sufficient funding," Wolf said.

"One major point of discrepancy in the governor's message was the percentage of state funding to school districts," Wolf said. "Thompson claims state funding is at 43 percent, while virtually every other group acknowledges the state's share at only 37 percent."

"The numerous problems facing our schools demand thoughtful and immediate attention," he added.

"At least now we have a plan on the table which should be successful in upgrading our state educational system."

Wolf chaired the regional task force of the Illinois Project for school reform. Quad Cityans serving on that panel included Dewey Melton, Gary Schneider and Duane Rankin.

Seniors can defer paying taxes

Elderly homeowners who qualify have until March 1 to apply for a delay in paying their local property taxes, according to State Senator Sam Vadala.

The statewide tax deferral program created by the Illinois General Assembly allows low-income homeowners, 65 or older, to delay paying their property taxes by putting a "lien" or debt on their property, Senator Vadala said.

The debt, plus 6 percent interest per year, eventually must be paid. But, under the program, payments do not have to be made until the taxpayer sells the property or dies. In the latter case, the bill would be left for surviving relatives to pay.

If the taxes are not paid at that time, the state can seize the property. This provision has scared many elderly homeowners into not applying for the program, the senator said.

"In the vast majority of cases this won't happen because the person who gets the property will pay the taxes. The program is not suited for everyone, but it will help elderly persons who are on the verge of foreclosure by giving them one less expense to worry about on a limited income," Senator Vadala said.

To qualify, a person must have a household income of less than $10,000 per year. Applications can be made at any county treasurer's office.

Parks make purchases in preparation for spring openings

By DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record

Granite City Park District commissioners last week accepted bid proposals for pool supplies, sporting goods, concession supplies, bedding plants and agreed to purchase a new tractor, in preparation for the forthcoming summer season.

In conjunction with the discussions on pre-season projects, Nancy Sanders, chairman of the engineering committee, announced plans to install a fountain in the largest pond of the present large garden. Funds for the fountain were provided by a donation of $1,000 from a park district resident last year.

BOARD MEMBERS also agreed to place a marker at the location in memory of the man's late wife, who had expressed her enjoyment walking through the flower gardens at the park.

In recognizing the need for a new tractor prior to the grass cutting season, the board members agreed to purchase a International Model 385 from Collinsville Equipment Co. for $8,998, the lowest bid meeting bid requirements.

However, there was some discussion on purchasing a John Deere Model 301-A, which is ready for use but would cost $10,234. The lower priced tractor would have to have some accessories removed and others added to comply with the specifications, it was noted.

IN A FINAL 4 to 1 vote on the two vehicles, Jeff Worthen voted against the successful bid.

A detailed report of five different models was compiled by Adrean Rains, maintenance supervisor, at the request of the board. He recommended the John Deere model because it was ready for use and was the most heavy-duty industrial tractor on the market. Although this vehicle cost $1,236 more than the one selected, the supervisor gave his reasons for the recommendation—the availability of parts and, from past experience, the fast service on repairs of the equipment and the quality of workmanship in the John Deere 301-A.

Park President George Sykes said the board cannot purchase the vehicle until appropriations for the 1985-86 year are compiled and it is evident that monies are available.

BID PROPOSALS for an automated payroll system were read by Frank Rea, board secretary, and after a brief discussion it was decided to refer the information to the planning committee. The committee was instructed to review all the information and present the board with a streamlined summation of the best possible plan. The 1966 dump truck was sold for $356, David Nolan, superintendent of parks and recreation, informed the board.

Tentative plans to purchase and install a new ladder in the swimming pool were reviewed and tabled until the pool renovations for opening day are completed. Miss Sanders told the commissioners that the new ladder would cost about $1,095.

NOLAN TOLD the board he expects work on the pool to begin as soon as weather permits and he plans to fill it with water approximately the first or middle of May, in time to monitor it for leaks prior to opening day which is traditionally on the Memorial Day weekend.

The ice rink closing date is tentatively scheduled for March 5, he added. In other business the board members accepted a letter of resignation from Stephen "Mitch" Mead and recommended Charles Bryant as his replacement. The board also agreed to bring in Charles Smith, Ray Jones and Andy Hinterser this month to begin the spring projects. They have been employed by the park district for winter jobs.

BOARD APPROVAL was given for the annual music program, sponsored by the park district and the musicians' union. Cost to the district was set at $2,540 and will remain on the same plan with the exception of Sunday musicals, which were not well attended.

The board also agreed to purchase a new typewriter at a cost of $695 for the park board office.

YMCA offers noon class in fitness

A unique fitness class is being offered during the noon hour at the Tri-City Area YMCA, 30th Street and Edison Avenue.

The class is a regime of exercising that focuses on the yoga philosophy. Ellen Wilson, instructor for the class, said members work on stretching the muscles and also, through exercising, relax the stress points in the body.

After using the yoga techniques, class participants should enjoy improved physical and mental well-being. The class meets for 45 minutes on Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, beginning at noon. The time frame enables those participating to return to work within their lunch break schedule.

For more information, interested persons may call the YMCA at 876-7200.

Plan for Dr. King holiday advances

The Executive Committee of the National Governor's Association unanimously approved a resolution offered by Illinois Governor James R. Thompson early this week encouraging states to celebrate the birthday of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. on the third Monday of each January.

Thompson was recently elected vice chairman of a 31-member national commission that will devise appropriate ways to best celebrate King's birthday at the federal, state and local levels, as well as by private organizations.

Under federal legislation signed by President Ronald Reagan last August, King's birthday will be celebrated as a national holiday on the third Monday of January beginning in 1986.

The resolution recommends that states consider confirming their celebration of King's birthday to the federal law. It also recommends that NGA members "work with public and private entities in planning and implementing a day of celebration of freedom and justice through the establishment of state Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. commissions or other such entities whose purpose would be to promote public involvement."

Illinois was the first state, in 1975, to establish King's birthday as a state holiday.

Terra cotta angels donated to SIUE

Fourteen terra cotta angels which ornamented the recently demolished Title Guaranty Building have been given to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The 7-foot-tall angels from the building which formerly stood on the southwest corner of 7th and Chestnut in St. Louis are conservatively valued at $100,000.

The gift was made jointly by Mr. and Mrs. Mark A. Turken and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller of St. Louis. Turken is chief executive officer of Turco Development Company, one of the leading developers of the Gateway Mall. Mr. Miller, president of Miller & Sons Beauty Supply Company, is an investor in the project. The decorative angels were carefully removed at the donors' own expense to ensure their proper preservation.

THE PRESENTATION was made at a conference between the donors and officials of the SIUE Office of University Museums. "We're delighted that the terra cotta angels from the Title Guaranty Building have found a new home at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville," Turken said, "and we are pleased to be contributing to the institution's outstanding collection of artifacts, so many of which are from landmark buildings by noted architect Louis Sullivan.

"Paul Miller and I wanted to preserve these exquisite angels and keep them in the metropolitan area so that people would have the opportunity to appreciate and enjoy such distinctive examples of a significant part of their architectural heritage," Turken concluded.

President Earl Lazerson replied, in accepting the gift. "These are truly elegant works of art. They represent an important act of preservation of beautiful elements from the buildings which made way for the Gateway Mall. The university is proud to have these pieces as splendid complements to our Sullivan collection."

"WE KNOW THAT the terra cotta angels will be well taken care of by the university; they will enhance the nationally recognized collection of architectural artifacts," Paul L. Miller, Jr., observed. "We're confident that the One Gateway Mall office building being developed on the block formerly occupied by the Title Guaranty Building will also emerge as a landmark whose quality will withstand the test of time."

Prior to the implosion of the building, the ornaments were placed for safe-keeping and appraisal with Larry Giles of the St. Louis Architectural Art Company. Giles informed Turken and Miller of the SIUE collection of architectural sculptures and was instrumental in helping direct the gift to the university.

The Title Guaranty Building was designed by the firm of Eames and Young. It was completed in 1898. The terra cotta was produced by the Winkle Terra Cotta Company of St. Louis, founded by Joseph Winkle in 1889.

WINKLE HAD previously cooperated with Louis Sullivan in attempts to demonstrate the possibilities of custom-designed terra cotta ornaments on the new large-scale commercial buildings that filled the St. Louis skyline at the end of the century.

On the Title Guaranty Building, each of the angels was initially cast from a large mold, and hand-finished by skilled artisans so that each figure maintains its own individual character. The frieze of cornice featured feminine angels, which were a Classical-Renaissance variant of the type of figures employed by Sullivan in the cornice of his Bayard Building in New York.

Specialists in 19th century terra cotta, such as professor Margaret Floyd of Tufts University, consider that Winkle terra cotta was perhaps the finest ever produced in the United States.

ALL OF THE terra cotta on the Title Guaranty was slip-glazed, with a distinctive lilac-violet color, with each panel and figure individually hand sculpted and brought to finished state by skilled masters. Although designs and figures were repeated throughout the building, each was distinctively finished and retains the unique imprint of an individual craftsman.

These angels will take their places among the work of Louis Henri Sullivan, Frank Lloyd Wright and George Grant Elmslie in the university collection.

LOOK EASTWARD, ANGEL. One of the 14 terra cotta angels taken from the recently imploded Title Guaranty Building sits in readiness for her new home at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The building ornament, part of a gift conservatively valued at $100,000, has been presented to the SIUE Office of University Museums by Mr. and Mrs. Mark A. Turken and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller of St. Louis.

Don't Give Bergen A Bargain!

In its attempt to gain your support for the proposed National Intergroup/Bergen Brunswig merger, National Intergroup's Board has painted you a rosy picture of Bergen's future. We urge you not to be influenced into voting on mere possibilities for your investment, but instead vote on the financial realities of the deal—And the realities are that on the date the merger was announced, the terms of the merger provided that you would turn in your National Intergroup common stock—not at a premium—but at a discount from National Intergroup's prevailing stock market price.

Consider the following and ask yourself whether you are prepared to surrender your investment in National Intergroup for Bergen paper on the terms agreed to by the Board:

BERGEN'S ULTIMATE ANTI-TAKEOVER DEVICE

- No matter how well or how poorly Bergen performs, and no matter whom the public stockholders desire to control the Board, Emil and Robert Martini ("the Martinis") will be able to elect a majority of the directors even though they would own less than one percent of the outstanding shares of the combined company.
- Because of the Martinis' voting control, the National Intergroup Board admits in its own proxy statement:

"If the Merger is consummated, a hostile takeover of the Corporation WOULD BE IMPOSSIBLE as long as the Class B Common Stock retains its present voting powers. This structure may be detrimental to shareholders who might wish to take advantage of any potential tender offers for their shares of Class A Common Stock. In addition, tender offers are usually made at prices above the prevailing market price of a company's stock and, accordingly, such shareholders may be deprived of an opportunity to sell their shares at a temporarily higher market price." (emphasis added)
- ASK YOURSELF WHETHER YOU WANT TO GIVE THE MARTINIS IRREVOCABLE CONTROL OVER NATIONAL INTERGROUP AND ITS OVER $1.5 BILLION OF ASSETS!

- Bergen is a diversified health service and consumer products distribution organization. In an opinion provided to us by Jefferies & Company, Inc. (whom we have retained to assist us), Jefferies stated: "Bergen's distribution business is subject to intense competition. Its gross margins (before selling, general and administrative and interest expense) have been under pressure for several years, declining from 13.37% in fiscal 1979 to 9.75% in fiscal 1984, and to 9.11% in the first quarter of fiscal 1985." (emphasis added)

BERGEN'S DETERIORATING GROSS PROFIT MARGIN

- An increasingly large portion of Bergen's sales and income is derived from one of its subsidiaries which distributes pre-recorded video cassettes, blank tapes, computer software and other electronic equipment. Consider the rapidly changing technology and rapidly changing popularity of these products and ask yourself whether you can be confident that the growth and profitability of these businesses will continue.
- Bergen recently acquired two drug distribution companies. On a pro forma basis, these acquisitions reduced Bergen's earnings (principally because of purchase accounting adjustments related to the amortization of the substantial amount of "goodwill" acquired in the Synergex acquisition). Bergen spent 40% of the total cash purchase price for the acquisitions on Synergex "goodwill," thereby decreasing its per share tangible book value. As a result, 28% of Bergen's current shareholders' equity now consists of "goodwill."
- National Intergroup points to a fairness opinion rendered by an investment banker which was retained to assist the Board. You should be aware that this investment banker will receive $250,000 for this opinion, an additional $250,000 for its advisory services, and stands to receive an additional $750,000 ONLY if the merger is completed! In addition to these fees, since 1982 this same investment banker has received $75,000 from National Intergroup and will receive an additional $1,750,000 from National Intergroup for other services.
- The National Intergroup Board points to Bergen's past stock price record as a reason for supporting the merger—BUT WE BELIEVE BERGEN'S PAST RECORD IS NO ASSURANCE THAT ITS STOCK PRICE WILL CONTINUE TO INCREASE AT THE SAME RATE OR AT ALL!
- Remember: The Martinis have taken out loans from Bergen that currently total approximately $3,000,000—interest-free!

1. Unless the borrower voluntarily terminates his employment with Bergen Brunswig prior to five years from the date of the note. According to the National Intergroup Board of Directors' proxy statement, the loans were made for the purpose of providing incentives to remain in the employ of Bergen Brunswig.

2. For the terms of Jefferies' engagement by Leucadia, see "Opinion of Investment Banker," beginning on page 9 of our Proxy Statement.

THE JEFFERIES OPINION

Our Proxy Statement contains the written opinion of Jefferies & Company, Inc. that, based upon its review described therein, the terms of the proposed merger are unfair, from a financial point of view, to the holders of National Intergroup Common Stock.<sup>2</sup> We asked Jefferies to set forth in detail the bases upon which it reached its conclusion. A copy of the full text of Jefferies' opinion, dated February 15, 1985, has been mailed to all common stockholders.

In its opinion, Jefferies determined the "fair value" of National Intergroup Common Stock by determining the values that could be realized if each of National Intergroup's operating units were sold separately as a going concern and then adding those values. Jefferies assumed receipt of all necessary consents and approvals and the existence of willing buyers for each of the operating units; the income tax consequences and fees, commissions and other expenses of transactions were not taken into account. Jefferies' analysis is not intended to be an indication of the market price of National Intergroup Common Stock if the proposed merger is not consummated nor is it intended to be a representation of values that could be immediately realized by holders of National Intergroup Common Stock. You are urged to read the opinion in its entirety.

In the "Summary of Opinion" that appears on page 1, Jefferies states:

"In our opinion, the fair value of National Intergroup Common Stock to be given up in the Proposed Merger is between $50 and $55 per share." (emphasis added)

JEFFERIES' RANGE OF PER SHARE VALUES

Number of shares used is 22,318,024 including 20,262,005 outstanding as of January 15, 1985 and 2,056,019 shares assuming conversion of the $5.00 Cumulative Convertible Preferred Stock.

If you don't act now to stop the merger, you will be forced to surrender your National Intergroup shares for Bergen paper and you will lose the chance forever to get a better price for your National Intergroup common stock.

As far as we know, the only people who have something special to gain from the merger over and above what National Intergroup's public stockholders will get are Messrs. Love and Haas with their "golden casket" arrangements and their "bonus" Class B shares (See pages 8-9 of our Proxy Statement).

If you agree with us that all National Intergroup common stockholders deserve a better, higher price for their shares—send a message to management—VOTE AGAINST THE MERGER.

Sincerely,
Leucadia National Corporation

If you have already voted the Board of Directors' proxy card, you have every legal right to change your vote by signing and returning Leucadia's GREEN proxy card. Only your latest dated proxy will count at the Special Meeting. VOTE AGAINST THE MERGER!

Educational reform a key to 'Illinois' growth—Thompson

Governor James R. Thompson recommended a major educational reform in a speech to the Illinois General Assembly last week and proposed $330 million in new funding, the largest appropriation increase for education in the history of Illinois.

"There is not a single member of this Assembly who has not sat with business, labor and educational representatives in his district and pledged every effort to persuade those interested in job location decisions to bring those jobs to the people you represent. And that goes double for the governor," Thompson said.

"But you cannot succeed, I cannot succeed, and our people will not be fully and productively employed unless we are willing to make that commitment to education and to make it now, at this session of the General Assembly."

Thompson said enactment of the "Build Illinois" program he proposed three weeks ago and these educational reforms "will send the single most powerful message to the business community of the world that in Illinois we are ready, willing and able to do business."

Thompson cited several areas that must be addressed in a reform package: a safer environment for learning in our schools; making the school system more efficient; improving teacher quality; upgrading the curriculum and making our school more accountable.

"The atmosphere in our schools must allow students to learn and teachers to teach," he said. "In too many of our schools today, especially in the inner cities of metropolitan regions, gang violence and the fear of crime in and around the schools spread a blanket of terror which suffices learning."

Thompson said the Department of Alcohol and Substance Abuse plans to deliver new substance abuse programs to the 57 educational service regions of Illinois and that he expects $1 million by 1987 to do it.

"I propose that the Department of Law Enforcement offer technical and intelligence assistance on a statewide basis to schools and local law enforcement agencies and that we organize and fund a Gang Crimes Analysis Unit in the Division of Criminal Investigation to do it."

"I propose that we fight harder to eradicate the stain of narcotics from our schools and that we lower the thresholds for criminal sentencing laws to do it."

"I propose that we take the troubled school of today and make it a place where children have a chance to learn in a decent atmosphere. I would establish a statewide system of alternative schools for those with serious discipline problems and I would spend $13 million in the next year to do it."

Thompson noted that only two states, both larger geographically and in population, have more school districts than Illinois.

"I propose that we step up our efforts to encourage school consolidation in Illinois and I would spend $1 million in planning money next year, and allow consolidated districts to keep their former permissive tax rates to do it."

Thompson called also for improved teacher quality. "The plain fact is that the best students cannot learn from poor teachers. The best of our college students ought to be entering the ranks of teaching today, but they are not. Our teachers ought to be earning salaries that fairly compete with equally important professions in our society, but they are not."

"The best of our teachers ought to be earning the highest salaries but they are not. Teachers ought to be able to advance in their profession from school to school, but they are not. They ought to be able to earn fair compensation, but they cannot."

"I propose that we increase the statewide minimum teacher's salary to $15,000 by next year and that we spend $10 million to do it."

"I propose that teachers in Illinois be paid based upon performance. While merit pay or career ladder plans are not without difficulty to implement, they are essential. Two principles are key—local control and a combination of peer and supervisor review. While the state should set guidelines, local school districts should construct career ladder methods of compensation and teachers, as well as supervisors, should be part of the evaluation process."

"I propose that we require candidates for the teacher's certificate to pass a written examination in English proficiency and subject matter competency."

"We must substantially upgrade the curriculum of elementary and secondary education in Illinois. What we teach and learn is as important as HOW we teach and learn."

"I propose that we begin strenuous efforts to eradicate illiteracy from Illinois and that we spend $44 million next year to do it."

"I propose that we upgrade our efforts (to improve science and math instruction) by planning and developing a Math and Science Academy in the high tech corridors of the Fox River Valley, an Academy of the Sciences in the corridors of the biotechnology centers of Chicago and an Agriculture and Agribusiness Academy in downstate Illinois."

"I propose that we upgrade instructional materials in mathematics and science and renew our vocational education training and equipment and that we spend $27 million next year in general education and 'Build Illinois' funds to do it."

The governor also called for an early education program for children:

"I propose that we begin 'Project TRAILS'—a pre-school program for transition and independence and that we spend $13 million next year to do it."

"Finally, for the children who learn of the teacher's certificate and the taxpayers who pay, the schools of our state and their students must be held publicly accountable."

"I propose that, on a statewide basis, we begin assessing proficiency in reading in the 1985-86 school year, adding proficiency in Mathematics in the next year and proficiency in language, arts and science in subsequent years. 'Courtney' graduation and 'social' promotions must end."

"I propose the development of a school report card to accompany the pupil report card by which we now measure pupil achievement. If schools must, and are able to grade students, then parents and taxpayers must, and must be able, to grade schools."

The governor proposed $330 million in General Revenue Funds and Build Illinois Funds for elementary and secondary schools, with $137 million going to pay for the reforms and $193 million in funding for the state school aid formula and categorical program reimbursement.

He proposed paying for the increase through natural revenue growth and through the removal of the current inequitable treatment of taxes on telephone calls which currently tax intrastate calls but not interstate calls. Extension of the current tax on local calls to interstate calls would raise about $61 million in Fiscal 1986 or $80 million in the first full year.

He said the Reagan Administration also has made it clear that it has no intention of stopping the transfer of eight cents in taxing power from the federal government to the states on Oct. 1, 1985. That would raise about $73 million in Fiscal 1986.

Thompson also took note of the hard work by many in the area of school reform and financing—"to the men and women of the legislative/public educational commissions of this state; to the staff of the Board of Education for their leadership; to the new Superintendent of Education, Ted Sanders, whose skills and leadership are already at work in this state; to the teachers and their associations; to school administrators and their associations; to parents and professors; to the public and the press; to the example of other states."

"Now is the time to combine our knowledge, our creativity, our wealth, our strengths, our hard work, our skill and our guts to keep the promise that we make to our children and our grandchildren each time we invoke the 'American Dream'—that we shall have the opportunity for a better life than we had."

"President Kennedy reminded us that a child who is neglected is a child who is lost. No more lost children in Illinois."

Activities scheduled at Cahokia Mounds

Cahokia Mounds Historic Site is announcing an early spring schedule of events for persons seeking activities.

Every Saturday "inside the museum" from 11:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., a different Indian technology or craft demonstration takes place. The public is urged to participate in the activities.

Each month, starting in March and ending in November, a different traditional Indian craft class will be conducted. The March craft class will be beadworking, taught by Mary Jane Vogler, a Cherokee, who has shown her beadwork at the St. Louis Art Museum, Indian pow wows and other heritage events. The students will learn loom, applique, rosette and lazy stitch. More elaborate stitches, such as the peyote, will be taught during class time. The bead class will be Saturday and Sunday, March 9 and 10, from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

The month of April will be highlighted with a new class at Cahokia Mounds in moccasins making, Dale Besse, a representative from the American Indian Center at St. Louis, Inc., will instruct in traditional cutting of the moccasin pattern.

GC man receives prison term for burglary attempt

Madison County Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill sentenced Curtis DuBoise, 31, of 2113a Benton St., to serve three years in prison following DuBoise's plea Jan. 8 to an attempted burglary charge.

DuBoise also must pay $90 in court costs.

He was charged on Aug. 27, 1984, after the owner of the Elmer General Trade Store, 1826 State St., apprehended DuBoise and another man. Granite City Police reports state that the owner, Eugene Knipple, and his wife were checking the business place and found the rear main door had been kicked open. Entry, however, was not made because of an iron bar door being chained shut.

Knipple went home and obtained some additional chains to further secure the iron door. Upon returning a few minutes later, Knipple saw a man jump off the roof above the rear door. A second man was sitting in the yard drinking a soft drink.

Knipple caught the men and his wife summoned police.

Two men arrested after crash with parked car

Terry Lee Chandler, 20, of 2006 Grand Ave., and David Powderly, 29, of 2714 Myrtle Ave., were arrested by Madison Police recently, at the intersection of Fifth Street and Alton Avenue, after they crashed into the scene of a hit-and-run accident, took them into custody when officers saw them standing in the vicinity of the crash.

When the pair was identified by a witness to the accident, the two men were arrested. The car that was hit is owned by Richard Sabo of 1800 Fifth St., Madison.

Chandler's car was towed from the scene, where it had been left. Police allegedly found three empty cans of beer and two full cans of beer in the car.

Chandler was charged with leaving the scene of an accident, no valid registration and illegal transportation of alcohol. Powderly was charged with illegal possession of alcohol.

While booking the two at the Madison Police Station, Chandler required medical attention and was transported to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Powderly was released on $52 cash.

Ordered to prison after burglary plea

Orlandus Williams, 31, of 11 Hill St., Eagle Park, has been sentenced to serve four years in prison following his guilty plea Jan. 11 to a residential burglary charge.

Williams was charged by Madison County Circuit Judge Edward Ferguson after Venice police filed the charge on Dec. 28, 1984.

In mid-1982, Williams was ordered to serve a 90-day jail sentence and two years of probation on a Nov. 25, 1982, charge of burglary. That case also was investigated by Venice police.

Jail, probation received for aggravated battery

Cornelius Bell, 32, of 1007 Douglas Ave., Venice, has been sentenced to serve 90 days in the Madison County Jail and two years probation following his guilty plea Jan. 14 to a charge of aggravated battery.

Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill also ordered Bell to pay $95 in court costs.

Bell was charged on Nov. 8, 1984, after allegedly shooting his former wife's ankle during a marital dispute. Venice police were called to the Bell home after receiving a call that gunshots were heard in the area.

Upon arrival, police found a .22-caliber revolver in the waistband of Bell's pants.

MINORS ARE CHARGED

Ronald L. Hook, 20, of 900 Twenty-fourth St., and James J. Jr., 19, of 2149 Cleveland Blvd., were both charged with being minors in possession of alcohol when their car was stopped at West Street and Popes Avenue at 1:25 a.m. Saturday. Both were released after each posted a $52 cash bond.

VANDALS SPRAY GARAGE

Marta S. Sale of 2001 Beckwith Ave., Madison, told police last week that someone sprayed green paint on her garage and damaged the fence surrounding her property. She said several inscriptions had been written with the spray paint, including a swastika, which was painted on the window of her garage.

BARNER TOOLS TAKEN

John Camp, part owner of the Barber Salon, 1000 Logan St., Apt. D, Venice, told police last week that someone removed hair cutting equipment valued at $275 from the barber shop. He said he is not sure when the incident occurred, since he has been ill for three months.

SKIING AT VAIL. Cindi Strotheide, Doug Suss and Jay Strotheide, all of Granite City, left to right, enjoy the slopes at Vail, Colo., where they spent a week skiing, accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. E. L. (Connie) Strotheide and Steve Akeman. Jay and Doug, advanced class skiers, skied the "Black Diamond" runs, reserved for experts only, and also the "Mogul" runs requiring airborne jumps and rapid directional maneuvers. Other members of the local party skied the intermediate slopes. Happily none of the vacationers needed his special services, Dr. Strotheide said.

VENICE MAN PLEADS GUILTY TO BURGLARY

Douglas Davis, 19, of 13 Lee Wright Road, has been sentenced to serve six years in prison following his guilty plea Dec. 20, 1984, to a residential burglary charge.

The charge was filed Dec. 10, 1984, after an investigation on Oct. 23, 1984, burglary by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville police. Davis appeared before Madison County Circuit Judge Edward Ferguson.

Last November, Davis was ordered to serve a six-year prison term on a burglary charge filed by Venice police on Aug. 29, 1984.

Probation, fine ordered on cannabis possession

Thompson heads Great Lakes governors

Members of the Council of Great Lakes Governors unanimously elected Illinois Governor James R. Thompson as council chairman last week, a post Thompson will hold through February 1987.

"I expect the council to play a greater role in issues that affect those states bordering the Great Lakes," Thompson said. "While we are bound together by one of the greatest natural resources in the world, we also share many of the same problems."

"The council gives Great Lakes governors the opportunity to work more closely together. By doing so, we can ensure a more effective voice for our region."

Thompson said his priorities as chairman during the next two years will involve promoting the region's attributes in the areas of tourism, shipping and business location.

The governor said he will place more emphasis on increasing the export activity of the region, with a special emphasis on encouraging value-added products for export.

Other issues include interstate banking at the regional level, implementing the recently signed Great Lakes Charter regarding water diversion and consumption from the Great Lakes and improving water quality in the lakes.

Besides electing Thompson as chairman, the council voted to move council headquarters to Chicago. Illinois Deputy Governor Gayle Cozens also was elected president of the organization.

State agency gets funds for child safety seats

The Illinois Department of Children and Family Services has received $105,000 in state funds to provide car restraint seats for children under its care, DCF's Director Gordon Johnson has announced. DCF's will use funds from the Illinois Department of Transportation to purchase 2,800 child restraint devices and loan them to foster families who care for children under state guardianship.

"All Illinois parents must now use child safety seats as a result of recent traffic safety legislation," Johnson said. "This loaner program allows us to purchase seats for foster children without imposing a costly financial burden on our foster parents."

Johnson said that DCF's foster parents may keep the seats for the duration of a child's foster care placement or until the child outgrows the seat, after which the seat will be returned to DCF's.

The seats will be maintained and made available to DCF's foster parents at each of the department's eight regional service offices located in Aurora, Champaign, Chicago, East St. Louis, Marion, Peoria, Rockford and Springfield.

TO REINFORCE A SLENDER FRAME ON A LARGE PIECE (LIKE 16" X 20"), STRETCH STRONG PLASTIC ADHESIVE WRAPPING TAPE ACROSS THE FRAME IN BOTH DIRECTIONS. THIS WILL KEEP THE SIDES FROM BOWING OUTWARD.

IF YOU ARE FRAMING THE PIECE, ADD THE TAPE BEFORE YOU PASTE ON THE USUAL BROWN PAPER BACK COVERING. TACK OR STAPLE THE ENDS OF THE TAPE ONTO THE FRAME.
